The GoEuro travel platform has included Las Palmas de Gran Canaria among the top 20 beach tourist destinations for this summer of 2017 throughout Europe, in a ranking of its own. Ranking in which more than a thousand beaches have been evaluated throughout the European map, with the aim of offering the best alternatives to its users those who "are planning a fun-filled holiday with friends, wish to explore a sunny corner of Europe With the family, or simply looking for the nearest beach to the airport. "

In particular, Las Palmas de Gran Canaria appears in the 16th place of this table for the summer of 2017, which lead Alicante, Catalina (Italy) and Palma. Barcelona, Split (Croatia), Genova (Italy), Marseille (France), Puerto del Carmen or Maspalomas are ahead of the beaches of the capital of Gran Canaria, which, however, are in a privileged position compared to destinations Such as San Sebastián, Bari (Italy), Porto (Portugal), Nice (France), Ibiza, Saint-Tropez (France) or Santa Cruz de Tenerife. Beach destinations that are also valued according to their proximity or connection with urban centers, under the slogan 'Beach and the City'.

In addition, Las Palmas de Gran Canaria is ranked 14th in the ranking by GoEuro for the ideal destinations for water sports in Europe, ranking in Palermo (Italy) and Cannes (France). Puerto del Carmen, in Lanzarote, is located in 12th place. The capital of Gran Canaria surpasses in this table to enclaves like Nice, Ibiza or Santa Cruz de Tenerife.

This ranking is elaborated according to criteria such as the characteristics of beaches, accessibility, temperature, water sports or nightlife.
